Ivanti® Advantage Learning is your answer to enabling your team with the skills and know-how to achieve technology- and process-driven productivity improvement, leveraging your purchase of Ivanti software.

Your human assets are what help you realize the value in your software investments and unlock the future-state you envision. Without essential training, the time to enable your vision is delayed, if realized at all. You'll never regret investing in your people.

The Importance of Training

Employees today place a high value on their own skill sets, and they are eager to learn. When you nurture these skills, you gain a competitive business advantage with employees who are highly capable and invested in your company. Sixty-eight percent of employees say that company training and development are the most important employee benefits. Worker development and training programs are often overlooked, yet studies show that investing in training programs is critical in keeping employees happy, satisfied, and engaged. Continual training and career-growth opportunities inspire your employees to work harder and become more motivated to be better at their jobs.

The Ivanti Approach to Learning

Ivanti Advantage Learning was built on a foundation of 'continuous learning.' Our blend of self-paced, instructor-led, lab, video, and other learning tools help ensure that learners and organizations come away with the knowledge they need to perform more effectively on the job and innovate in the market.

Step 1: Learn

Ivanti training incorporates a range of online courses, lesson plans, and assessments suitable for a variety of learning needs. The learning objective is for the participant to comprehend and use the new information.

Step 2: Hands-On Application

Learning is enhanced and retained by incorporating hands-on product experience with products. Ivanti training integrates product-based tasks in an online lab, so participants can apply what they have learned.

Step 3: Evaluation

Learners are most successful when they reflect and evaluate their personal learning process. Ivanti training includes participant validation that their learning objectives were met.

Ivanti Offers Choices

Ivanti Advantage Learning places the power of learning in the individual learner's hands. Ivanti recognizes that learners' needs and work experiences differ, and because of this, Ivanti Advantage Learning provides options that let learners consume information how they like. Ivanti Advantage Learning also offers flexible training options to help learners advance at their speed, as well as accommodate various schedules and project timeframes. We implement a variety of learning solutions, ultimately delivering the most impactful learning experience for participants.

Learning Solutions

eLearning

Employees across the globe can take an eLearning course at their own pace, preferred time, and location.

Ivanti Advantage Learning's eLearning offering includes short, concise, and interactive training modules, incorporating hands-on learning exercises and instructional videos focused on the content necessary for your system administrators to fully manage the Ivanti software in your company.

Blended Learning

Ivanti recognizes the benefit of blended learning, and has combined the flexibility and convenience of eLearning with the personalization that comes with instructor-led support. With hands-on lab experience in a safe place, learners can make mistakes, ask questions, and get instructor assistance to do it right going forward. Technical topics sometimes require interaction back and forth between the instructor and learner to ensure knowledge is absorbed, retained, and applied on the job.

Instructor-Led Training

Our instructor-led training classes are provided in live settings and online. Users can interact and engage directly with instructors and fellow learners. If the learner needs further explanation or clarity, the instructor is available to respond to questions, providing an effective learning experience. Public training classes are available for all learners and give them the opportunity to interact across companies.

For customers who need more customized training outside of Ivanti Advantage Learning, private training classes are available. Ivanti's private training classes provide customers with a dedicated instructor for their organization and can be tailored to fit customers' specific needs. Private training can be delivered onsite at the customer's location or live online (remotely).

Virtual Training Environments

Available with many of our online training courses, Ivanti Advantage Learning's virtual training environments allow learners to interact, connect, and learn the features of the product first-hand.

Accelerated deployments, seamless upgrades and transitions, eager user adoption, and proactive support all start with certified resources.
