

Managing and Securing a Productive Mobile Workforce

Mobility provides the keys to unlock Everywhere Work. With it, workers can conduct business wherever the point of activity may be. Data flows more freely and swiftly throughout your organization as visibility into forecasts and material orders becomes available more quickly and financial transactions can be initiated anywhere.

Ivanti has the enterprise mobility solutions you need to keep your mobile users productive, manage deployed devices and ensure security across your mobile ecosystem.

Accelerate mobile productivity

From smartphone-toting BYOD users to operational workers carrying rugged mobile computers, your mobile workforce interacts with a variety of enterprise applications. The Ivanti Velocity platform lets you optimize users' interactions with these systems, so you can deliver consistent, familiar and reliable experiences.

Mobility that's efficiently managed

Enterprise mobility encompasses whole categories of devices – from smartphones and tablets to rugged mobile computers, wearables and more. Organizations need mobile device management (MDM) that works equally well across corporate and operations IT teams. Ivanti Neurons for MDM has the flexibility to keep workers productive while ensuring devices are secure, available and accessible.

Proactive, secure mobility

Mobility is a dynamic threat vector facing threats from zero-day attacks and “mishing” attempts, bombarding users every day. Ivanti Mobile Threat Defense helps protect against the greatest threats to your mobile workers, with real-time threat intelligence that helps secure users, devices, applications and networks across your mobile ecosystem.
